The Letter of St. Augustine.
We have not wings, we cannot soar;
But we have feet to tread and climb By slow degrees, by hard and more,
The cloudy summit of our time.
In mighty pyramids of stone That wedge the cleaves of desert air, When nearer, and, and better known,
Are but gigantic flights of stairs.
The distant mountains, that appear Their solid bastions to the sky, Are crossed by pathways that appear As we to higher levels rise.
The heights by great men reached and kept Were not attained by sudden flight, But they, while their companions slept, Were toiling upward in the night.
Standing on what long we have With shoulders bent and downward eyes, We may discern around us A path to higher destinies.
Nor does the laurel wreath As wholly wasted, empty vale, It, rising on the heights, at last To something nobler we attain.

Woe the Dear Old Mother.
Time has scattered the snowflakes On her brow, pillow deep furrows On her cheek, but is not she sweet And beautiful now? The lips are thin And sunken, but those are the lips That have kissed many a hot tear From childish cheeks, and they are the sweetest lips in all the world. The eye is dim, yet it ever glows with the soft radiance of holy love which can never fade. Ah, yes, she is a dear old mother. The sands of life are nearly run out, but she is the will to further and reach lower for you than any other person on earth.
You cannot walk into a midnight where she cannot see you; you cannot enter a prison whose bars will keep her out; you cannot mount a scaffold too high for her to reach, that she may kiss and bless you in evidence of her fearless love. When the world shall disperse and forsake, when it leaves you by the wayside to die unnoticed, the dear old mother will gather you in her feeble arms, and carry you home to tell you all your virtues until you almost forget that your soul is disfigured by vice.
Love her tenderly and cherish her declining years with holy devotion.

A Canadian Lie.
A Mrs. Wilson came into the city by a late train one night last week from Belleville. She had several children with her, one of them a baby in arms, which was snugly wrapped up in a huge shawl. Another lady arrived from some point West, and was also the owner of a baby. The ladies placed their babies in the waiting room while they went to look up their baggage. When they returned they took one another's baby, and the lady from Belleville drove to her home, and the lady from the West to the north end of Yonge street. One of the children was a boy and the other a little girl, and they were put to bed hurriedly when home was reached. The surprise of the mothers may be imagined the next morning, when apparently a single night had transformed the sex of their babies.
The children were not "mixed" until Monday. (Toronto Globe.)

WINKING AT PAPA.—Not long since a seven-year-old son of one of our preachers, after service was over and the family had returned home from church, said, "Papa, do you ever look at me while you are preaching?" The father thinking that he was a little hurt by supposed neglect said, "Certainly my son, I often look at you and think of you when I am preaching." "But to-day you did not notice me at all." "Yes, I did, son, several times," said the father. "Well, papa, did you see me wink at you two or three times?" "No, my son, what did you wink at me for when I was preaching?" "I winked at you papa, to get you to stop, it was getting too long."

Since the republicans have obtained control of Congress, over one hundred million dollars' worth of "rebel claims" have been presented. The owners of these claims know that under former republican Congresses over $100,- 000,000 of such claims were paid.
The democratic Congresses put a stop to this republican raid on the Federal Treasury, but it has commenced again under republican auspices. The fact is very significant. The claim sharps know which party is bent on squan-dering the public money. (Courier-Journal.)

Said George Eliot: "Childhood has no forebodings; but then it is soothed by no memories of outlived sorrow." You see, George never had any children, and didn't know. Where's the boy of ten who hasn't the memory of outlived sorrow caused by the old man's trunk strap, when he put a wet sponge in the old man's boot that sprinkled water clear up the old man's leg. And hasn't the boy forebodings when he thinks the old man suspects him of putting tar on his hair brush?
"How much do you charge for your peanuts?" asked a lady at the fruit stand at the Central Station. "Ten cents a quart," said the clerk. "Too dear," replied the lady. "But," persisted the young man, "these are hand picked, and we warrant them to cure consumption and heart disease." The woman actually purchased two quarts. (Rochester Chronicle.)

The Res Min a Monstrous.
Our Monticello correspondent sends the following: In speaking of the change from a Christian Minister to an atheistic lecturer of the Rev. Geo.
C. Miln, of Chicago, the editor of the Literary Microcosm in a late number gives utterance to the following forcible, but truthful language: "Ambition to be heard and applauded by large audiences has manifested turned his head and caused, perhaps, honest doubts, which might have been suppressed and changed to stronger faith, to become the basis of a selfish unbelief that has culminated in a public crusade against all that ennobles and blesses the human race. No man with such a heart should be trusted as a friend. He who would snatch from a bereaved mother the hope which was her only solace, without proffering her something in return, save the cheerless gloom of atheism, would be equal to the heartlessness of throwing noses into her open grave to emit the pleasures of her soul. Such a spiritual misanthrope could scatter casualty upon the floor of a crowded audience room and take pleasure in sitting upon the platform and watch the people rub their eyes, if it would only be considered small. Such a social monster could stick pins into babies and take satisfaction in hearing them cry. Last night such a man was trusted. Stay away from his incendiary harangues against religion as you would shun a lecture for the injection of treason and assassination.
Pass him by in the street as you would give a wide berth to one fresh from the pest house. Let him gratify his soulless ambition for applause among congenial spirits who have so often applauded the same arguments from the lips of Lucifer. But let no countenance be shown him by any who do not wish to blight the future of humanity by blotting from the earth the last hope of civilization."

Origin of "Praise the Lord." Dr. John Ray, an old school-mate of Rev. Geo. O. Barnes, says that during their school days at Danville, a lot of students went out to steal some turkeys, and as Barnes was the most staunch of the party, he was detailed to crawl in the straight and narrow way which led into the coop. After hauling out the last big gobbler, his slipping awakened the dogs, which raised the old man and woman of the premises. Out came the old man with a shotgun, and the old woman with a candle, and as all the party had fled and Barnes was left in the coop, a close search then began.
Barnes, however, had assumed a roosting position on the pole, so when the old woman held the light in, she made a hasty glance and took her head out and said, "Praise the Lord, old man, they've left the old gobbler!" —(Bourbon News.)

Professor Perry, of Williams College, has calculated that since 1861 the people of the United States have paid twelve thousand million of dollars in the extra price of home products, not a cent of which has gone into the treasury. In other words, since 1861, our Republican protective policy has cost us more than twice as much as the late war, and every dollar of it has gone into the pockets of monopolists who go about begging for the support of "infant industries," and shedding crocodile tears over the poor workman who gets 8 per cent., while the monopolists gets 66 per cent. of the profits of protected industry. (Vineennes (Ind.) News.)

GOING AS A FLOWER.—Fort Wayne special to the Indianapolis Journal: A box supposed to have contained flowers was shipped last night from Chicago to Philadelphia, via the Fort Wayne railroad, by express. The messenger hearing a strange noise in the box, opened it at Van Wert, O., and found a live man, giving his name as Jerry McAuley. He stated that his relatives had shipped him that way because it was cheaper than buying a railroad ticket. The man resides at 171 Madison street, Chicago.
He is in the hands of the express company at Van Wert, awaiting disposition.

In Norway it takes from 110 to 120 days from the sowing for Spring wheat and oats to grow and be ready for harvesting; barley about 90 days.
Rye is used exclusively for bread.
It is made in round cakes, about one foot in diameter and from 1 to 1 1/2 inch thick. After baking, the cakes are thoroughly dried and become very hard, but are easily soaked for use.
This bread is considered very healthful and nutritious. The cakes will keep any length of time.

A lot of farmers who had been listening to a railroad land agent's praise of Arkansas Valley soil, at last asked him sarcastically, if there was anything that wouldn't grow there.
"Yes," said the agent, quickly, "pumpkins won't." "Why not?" "The soil is so rich, and the vines grow so fast that they wear out the pumpkins dragging them over the ground." Twenty years ago a Louisville man swore that he would never marry until women should acquire sufficient good manners not to go abreast over a crossing, and not to occupy the entire width of the sidewalk. The horrid wretch is still single.

Poison from bees, hornets, spider-bites, etc., is instantly arrested by the application of equal parts of common salt and bicarbonate of soda, well rubbed in on the place bitten or stung.

Congressional Changes.

The bill makes the following changes in the districts:
In the First district, no change.
In the Second, Muhlenberg and Ohio are taken off, the former going to the Third and the latter to the Fourth district.

In the Third, Barren and Meigs are given to the new or Eleventh district, and Muhlenberg taken from the Second.

In the Fourth, Spencer, Green and Hart are taken away, the former to the Eighth and the latter to the Eleventh, and Ohio added from the Second.

In the Fifth, Oldham is taken away and added to the Seventh, leaving the district composed of Jefferson county and the city of Louisville.

In the Sixth or Covington district, Harrison is taken off and added to the Seventh.

In the Seventh, Harrison and Old ham are added, and Shelby, Jossa-mine and Clark taken away, the two former to the Eighth and the latter to the Tenth.

In the Eighth, Blair, Casey, Pa-lack, Russell, Taylor and Wayne are taken away and given to the Eleventh and the following counties added: Spencer from the Fourth, Shelby and Jossamine from the Seventh, and Jackson, Owens, Laurel and Rock-castle from the Ninth.

The Ninth district is the old Tenth, without changes.

In the Tenth, Clark is added from the Seventh, and Jackson, Laurel, Owens and Rockcastle taken away and added to the Eighth, and Whiteley added to the Eleventh. (Frankfort Yeoman.)

A SON OF TEXAS.—"How is your son coming on?" "Oh, I am having a power of trouble with him." "What's the matter now?" "Well, you know I couldn't send him to school, because, thanks to Governor Roberts, there are no free schools, and I could not afford to send him to a private school." "Yes, I know that is so." "Well, I sent him away from Galveston out to the frontier, and as luck would have it, he was convicted of horse stealing, and got five years in the penitentiary." "That was bad." "No, it wasn't; for you see at the penitentiary he could learn a trade and become a useful citizen." "Well, that's good." "No, it isn't; for Governor Roberts has pardoned him out on account of his youth and ignorance." (Galveston News.)

Two weeks before his death, Longfellow wrote with his own hand to a lady who sent him flowers: "I have been arranging these wonderful flowers under the lamp in my library. I can only think of the floral games of Toulon in the times of the Trouba-dours, and were I a good Troubadour I would write you a letter in verse tonight, but I am worn and weary so that I find it difficult to write even prose. Thanks is a little word, but it has much meaning when there is as much behind it, and thus I send you mine for these Newport flowers."

Beecher says: "Don't put on sackcloth if you have better clothes to wear. Don't bow your head like a bulrush, but go with head erect as a son of God. Don't whine before God.
You are not a slave. I will not crawl before God on my belly because I am so filthy and sinful. I am not filthy and sinful, and I won't say so. I go before God as a nobleman saying, 'I acknowledge my imperfections; nevertheless, I am your son.' Rejoice in the Lord always." (Chicago News.)

It is now estimated that Governor Blackburn's "kind heart" has cost the State in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 since he has been Governor; that is, he has equaled lines to that amount. The Governor may have a very big and a very kind heart, but is most undoubtedly a very expensive one to the State. Just think of it! In the last 30 months one man's heart has cost this State over $1,000,000.

"Don't you don't believe in sticking to non-resistance?" "Yes, I do; but I've got to be man what makes de non-resistance on my ticket, so de sooner dat every honest man forms himself in a holler squad, calls himself ter order an' nominates his own ticket unanimously, de sooner dar'll be reform in politics an' honesty in de Gubment." (Old Si, in Florida Times.)

An American Consul, about to come home, writes: "The man who goes abroad in the service of his country is an use on general principles. He logs his grip at home and doesn't 'catch on' abroad."

Silver dollars with holes in them are painfully numerous, but they are not half so painfully numerous as holes without any silver dollars in them.

It takes 100,000 elephants yearly to supply the Ivory of the world. When the elephants are gone the cows will have to look up their horns to keep 'em.

It is estimated that the total length of sub-marine telegraph cables in the world is 62,100 miles, having a money value of about $200,000,000.
The difference between a sentimental young girl and an old hat is only a

The Natural Bridge.

The Natural Bridge property is now in the progress of extensive improvements, including a fine hotel and other attractions, which will make it at an early date a place of more general resort than ever, particularly for summer visitors. One notable change has already been made, which will be an agreeable surprise to the public; no charge is now made for looking at the bridge, which seems to be in the line of the ancient tradition connected with the property, that Mr. Jefferson, who was the first owner (it having been first surveyed and patented in his name) intended to dedicate it to the public as free to all visitors. According to the tradition, there was a provision in the will to that effect; but this is a mistake, as the writer has ascertained by an inspection of it and a deed of conveyance on record in Rockbridge county. The first charge made for looking at the bridge was 25 cents, then 50 cents and finally $1.
At the former prices it was a source of considerable income, but $1 was more than the public were willing to pay, and the last year, broke the "candle" back. The consequence was that for two or three years past the income has been very inconsiderable. (Lynchburg Virginian.)

A train with 150 passengers aboard became snowbound on the Canada Pacific Railroad, west of Winnipeg, and was fast in the drift over three days.
Food and fuel gave out, and there was a great deal of suffering from hunger and cold. There happened to be a sledge and a train of dogs in the baggage car, and with those a scant supply of provisions was fetched from a station twenty miles distant. Four passengers started for Winnipeg on snow shoes, were badly frozen on the way, and reached that place in a deplorable plight.

Edward Martin, the thirteen-year-old boy who stole an envelope containing a check for $25, was brought before the Police Court this morning.
His mother urged the Court in her boy's behalf to let him off this time, and said that if he was discharged she would send him to relatives in Ireland who would care for him. Judge Eggleston referred to the boy's previous bad record, and said: "What will prevent his stealing in Ireland?"
"There is nothing to steal there," replied Mrs. Martin. (Hartford Post.)

Statistics show that the annual consumption of eggs in the United States is about 10,000,000 barrels. The poultry marketed or consumed is estimated at 680,000,000 pounds, at 468,- 000,000, and yet there are some who say that chickens don't pay them anyhow. If this is so, some one must be losing money in disposing of the vast amount of chickens and eggs consumed in the United States.

Out of 157,588,521, the number of cattle estimated to be in the world, 35,907,791, including all kinds, were in this country at the taking of the last census. Out of 382,763,015 sheep we had 51,183,993 head. Out of 81,990,330 hogs we had 47,688,- 871, which would place the United States as the foremost hog country in the world, with more than one-half of the grand total.

We tell you plenty that Simmons Liver Regulator will rid you of dyspepsia, purify your system, enable you to sleep well, prevent malarial diseases and give you a

PERSONAL.

—Miss Lou DUNN is visiting friends in Harrodsburg.

—Miss JENNIE BUCHANAN, of Crab Orchard, is a guest of Mrs. J. H. Shank.

—Miss BESSIE HENNING left for the cities yesterday, to select a fine line of Millinery.

—Our young friend, Andrew G. Whitley, has sold his home and is moving to his grocery business to H. C. Farber, and will retire to the seclusion of a farm.

—JENNIE T. P. HILL, of Stanford, familiarly known as "the poet," is displaying marked ability as a lawyer, and is considered quite an oracle. (Richmond Herald.)

—Mrs. C. L. HODGES, of Middleburg, was up yesterday. He still carries his arm, which was badly broken some eight weeks ago, in a sling, but thinks he will soon be able to use it.

—We are much gratified to observe in the Cumberland Presbyterian that Miss Mary Owsley, daughter of our countryman, Hon John K. Owsley, has been chosen as the Latin Salutatorian at the graduating exercises of Ward's College, Nashville, to occur about the first of June. This will be very agreeable news to her friends here as well as a compliment to Mrs. Truheart, by whose school she was graduated. She is regarded as a remarkably diligent scholar by Mrs. T. during her four or five years of study under her, and rarely failed to obtain the highest distinction in her classes.

The damage to fruit and vegetable prospects in this and adjoining States by the cold snap is reported very great.

THE Lincoln Mills will do custom grinding on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week, until further notice.

The peaches are said to be entirely killed and likewise the pears, but there will be some cherries, and a fair crop of apples without further wintry weather.

AN old citizen says: "If it rains on Easter Sunday it will rain for seven consecutive Sundays." The young folks will be sorry to remember that it rained last Sunday.

OUR correspondents send us entirely too many responses. We do not object to a certain class of them, but we can not and will not give space to tell how Miss Hunt-logupter spent the evening with Miss Thimblelosh, so please do not send such stuff.

McALLISTER & SALLIE are laying a pipe from their mill to the creek, from which they will hereafter pump water for steam purposes. It is quite expensive, but they will enjoy the privilege, as they failed to strike water after boring to a good depth.

NOTICE—All persons indebted by note or account to the estate of Samuel Hiatt, deceased, Garrard county, are notified to settle at once, and all having claims against the same to present them to the Administrator. Lewis V. Leavelle, Adm'r.

MR. JOHN BARNES says he don't like this way that Mr. Barnes has of reading all the plug horses out of heaven. He thinks if any horse deserves a sweet bye-bye "Old Stage" that he bought from Mr. R. ought certainly be included in the number.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Pless Dye, father of the great and only Josh, died very suddenly Tuesday night. He was in the usual health and had just taken a drink of whiskey, when he was taken ill and expired in a few moments. It is thought that he was poisoned, whether intentionally or not, we could not learn.

THE cold snap just developing as we went to press on Monday night, turned out to be a real blizzard. The mercury sank to 25° Tuesday night, and to the thickness of a half inch or more formed in this and many other localities. The tender garden plants, of which many were very far advanced, were killed and some of the wheat that had jointed, was slightly injured.

THE COFFMANS charged with robbing King's and others, had their examining trial at Hustonville, Tuesday, which resulted in two of them being released and the other two, Jim and Fry, being sent on to the next Circuit Court. They were unable to give bail, so were returned to their former quarters here. We are told that it was developed on the trial that there was an organized band of 15 in Casey, that did nothing but prosecute a system of robbery.

The names of some of the gang were obtained and warrants issued for their arrest.

APPLES, Oranges, Lemons, Bananas, etc. at McAllister & Bright's.

THE City Council has now the right to subscribe $1,000 towards securing the location of the work shops at Richmond Junction, both houses having passed the bill authorizing them to do so.

THE Lancaster Musical Society is arranging to give the Opera of Esther in Stanford about the middle of next week. Quite a number of our citizens have expressed themselves anxious to attend.

J. W. HAYDEN opened this week a No. 1 line of Dressed Goods, comprising Solid and Lace Nun's Veilings, Bindings, and a great variety of Staple Goods, which have been marked down to the lowest figures. Also splendid Moire and Satin Trimmings in all shades.

NEWMAN.—There is but one expression here and that is that Newman gave the best and most wonderful performance ever in Stanford. His ideal illusions embrace many new tricks which are absolutely incomparable, and as far as the average man is concerned, inexplicable. The suspension in mid air of his daughter, Miss Mary, Colby, of this place, was a magical performance that was simply marvelous, while the dissolving views, given with all the splendid effect of electric and celium lights, were exceedingly fine. Prof. Newman is a perfect Chesterfield both in motion and address, and his great success has, of course, brought out many imitators, one fair going so far as to adopt his name, and endeavor to fill his pockets on his (R's) fame, and against the fellow this Prof. warns the public.

CRAB ORCHARD SPRINGS.—For the third time this property was put up at auction yesterday by Col. W. C. Welch, Trustee of Col. Isaac Shelby. When it was first offered in September last, it was withdrawn because the bids were regarded too low, and when it was put up again on the 30th of last month, the gentleman to whom it was knocked off, failed to make bond. Yesterday it was sold to George W. James, one of the syndicate, for $20,025 for the realty and $2,510 for the personality. The following compose the syndicate: Dr. J. B. Owsley, Dr. T. B. Montgomery, W. W. McAllister, J. B. Hocker, R. S. Hocker, J. S. Grimes, Geo. McAllister, G. W. James, J. H. Owsley and W. P. Weston. All of the party are from Stanford, with the exception of Mr. James and Dr. Owsley, who are from Crab Orchard. The property last sold, it is said, $160,000, and of course the purchasers have a bargain. They will prepare for the season at once, and run it on a liberal scale.

MARRIAGES.

—Mr. D. P. Rowland and Miss Lizzie Lee, the handsome and attractive sister of Mrs. J. S. McAllister, of this place, were married at the First Presbyterian Church, Danville, Wednesday.

DEATHS.

—Squire S. Thompson, of Woodstock, a half brother of R. G. Miller, of this county, died a few days ago of consumption, aged 60.

—DORRIS.—Hon. Paul J. Donaghy, of Boyle, member of the Legislature, died at Frankfort, Wednesday, of erysipelas, complicated with Bright's disease of the kidneys. He was a brother-in-law of Mr. James R. Marra, of the Advocate, and father of Mr. George W. Donaghy, foreman of the same paper. He was possessed of many good qualities which made him very popular at home and abroad. The present was his second term as Representative.

RELIGIOUS.

—Rev. J. M. Bruce will preach at Richmond Junction, at 7 P. M. Sunday next.

—The St. Xavier congregation, Cincinnati, raised $23,000 Sunday for rebuilding their church.

—The Northern Indiana M. E. Conference passed a resolution forbidding the use of tobacco by preachers.

—Rev. George H. Austin, of the Methodist Church, was Tuesday sentenced to the penitentiary in Indiana, for five years for forging a note for $250. He pleaded that he had no criminal intent in the matter, and that he was forced to do something to keep from starving, as his Circuit only gave him $50 per year.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

—Six hundred bushels of corn were delivered at a Marion county distillery at 75 cents.

—W. F. Evans, of Boyle, has sold to George Baker his cattle to be delivered in July, at 54 and 6 cents.

—J. H. Hocker has bought of sundry parties for Andrew Buford, a car load of cows with calves at $35 to $50.

—J. W. Burgess, of Lexington, sold to Miller & Brody, of Atlanta, Ga., 12 head of nice cotton mules at $130 per head.

—The proprietors of Lincoln Mills want to buy 500 or 600 barrels of corn, for which they will pay the highest market price.

—Uncle Pete Embury is the owner of a little mule that has just made its appearance, which measures 3 feet-10 inches in height.

—LEXINGTON COURT.—400 to 500 cattle, mostly common; some left over; prices from 34 to 44 cents. Mules were in demand at $70 to $140; plug horses $25 to $30.

—At the first day of Phil. Kidd's combination sale at Lexington fifty-five head horses brought $19,525—an average of $355. The great Voltaire went to Ohio at $1,800.

—A big halibuton story from Dallas, Texas, says "they ranged from the size of walnuts to base-balls, and many still larger were picked up, measuring over ten inches in circumference." As might be expected, great damage was done.

—At McFerran, McDowell & Yeach's sale of fine horses at the Louisville Fair Grounds, Robert Honner, of the N. Y. Ledger, bought Hecyon for $4,000 and Garland for $1,000. He says he went with the intention of paying $17,000 for the former, if he could get him for less.

—Col. John M. Covey has returned from Atlanta, Ga., where he has been located the last three months. He says that mules sold dull save at $100 to $125 for cotton, and $175 to $180 for large. He handled but few beyond those took from here. The crop prospects are fair.

—In Cincinnati cattle are firm at $2.50 to $3.75 for common; good to extra butchers, $3.25 to $4.50; fair to good shippers, $3.50 to $4.50; fat to $5; stockers, $3.50 to $4.50. Hogs are in improved demand at $7 to $7.40 for selected and heavy butchers; packers, $4.50 to $7; common, $5.40 to $6.20. Sheep are steady at 34 to 6 cents, clipped, 4 to 6 cents; spring lambs 74 to 10 cents.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

Highland.

—D. A. Baugh has commenced peeling (so bark).

—There is a great deal of sickness in this community.

—Mrs. R. R. Rages has gone to see her sister, Miss Anna Baugh, at Stanford, who is very sick.

—John Butt has moved his blacksmith to Tunes City, for the purpose of running a shop at that place.

—B. B. Young sold to Jas. Light, one cow and calf for $25. Doc. Bastin sold one cow to W. D. Dye for $20.

—We are afraid that the people will not get many peaches to eat this year.

—A crowd of young and old men too, found a squirrel in a tree on the public highway last Sunday evening and got an old rifle and shot at it several times. They ought to be ashamed of themselves.

Crab Orchard.

—Mr. John Merson, Sr., has rented his barn to Don Hughes, of Lancaster, for $30 per month.

—The last hard freeze played and havoc with the peas, and our gardeners now sit by the fire and shiver.

—Doc. Hicks, a negro staying at Mrs. Merson's, went to Lexington, to go to Newland's store to get change for a $5 bill. As the boy was not in the habit of carrying so much money, Mr. Newland suspected that all was not right, and sent the money up in Mrs. Merson's, who examined his purse and found that a corresponding bill was missing. She had the boy arrested and sent him to Stanford to pay for his fun on the rock pile.

—Wm. Tatum and Geo. DeBord have moved to their new shop on Stanford street, opposite DeBord's residence. Mr. Francis Edmiston is building a store-room near the depot. Mr. Alfred Davis bought this week of Ang. Linderthum, one of Baldwin & Co.'s Fisher plows. Dr. Eberhart is very ill and not expected to recover.

—Mr. Andersonville Elbert has taken charge of the drug store. Mrs. Chisman and her pretty little twin daughters, Mary and Katie, of Danville, are visiting Mrs. John Hester, of this place. Mrs. J. S. Carson has returned from Stanford. Mr. Albert Turner and sister, Miss Lizzie, of Woodford, were visiting the family of Mr. Wm. Stuart, of this place, this week.

GARRARD COUNTY.

Lancaster.

—Geo. Higginbotham is a candidate for Sheriff of Garrard county, subject to the action of the democracy.

—I am authorized to announce Hiram Rothwell, candidate for Sheriff of Garrard county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

—In order to close out their canned goods, Geo. D. Burdett & Co. offer for the next thirty days—Yamouth Corn, per dozen, $1.60; 3 lb. Standard Tomatoes, $1.50; 2 lb. do., $1.20; Peaches, Apples, Pine Apples, &c., in proportion. Sugars, Coffee, Tea, and Queensware, much lower than elsewhere.

—Mr. Sam. Hilt, of this county, died very suddenly from a stroke of apoplexy last Monday morning. He was an old bachelor, and generally considered pretty wealthy. He left no will.

—Mr. Hilt was a trader in negroes during slavery times, and for a while (about the close of the war) was engaged in the banking business in Louisville.

Bryantsville.

—Regular Easter weather. Jos. Dunn predicts snow.

—Corn planting is all the rage, but suppose this cold snap will put a stop to bus-tillities for the present.

—Little Harry, son of T. B. Robinson, while playing with a hatchet, cut his thumb and front finger from the country.

—Al Burnside bought of J. W. Poor, 180 bushels of cultivated hemp seed, for which he paid $2 per bushel.

—H. B. Campbell has purchased of W. P. Harker, his fine black kick, said to be one of the best jacks in the county.

—There seems a great fatality among the colored population in this vicinity. Some four or five were buried during the past week.

—Rev. Shadrach Thompson filled his regular appointment at Mt. Hebron, Sunday. Mr. Jimmie Johnston is teaching the Sunday School scholars sacred music before Sunday School. Very kind in him.

—The ladies of the Christian Church are giving for the sick a strawberry and ice cream supper in the near future. Had it been an oyster supper we would have invited the editor, as we know he enjoys the Church Oyster.

—Mr. Mayfield, of this place, lost the entire contents of his store by fire the past week. The building was owned by Jack Huffman. Mr. M. has the sympathy of the community, as the loss was understood fairly heavily on him.

—Mr. T. C. Yarnum, of this place, was the guest of H. B. Campbell, last week. Mrs. T. K. Adams has returned from a visit to Washington county. Miss Meek Adams is visiting relatives in Ohio. Her little daughter is still very sick. Her father is very uneasy about her. Mr. A. D. Ford has returned with his cousin Ed. Ford, from Eureka Springs. Mr. Ed. Ford, though still using crutches, feels much benefited from his sojourn at the Springs. The son of A. D. Johnston and also one of Nick Grimes, are quite sick.

Paint Lick.

—Prof. Kersey is teaching a singing class at this place.

—W. L. Barnes and Joe C. Burrows are in the cities this week, buying their Spring supplies of goods.

—We hope the Legislature will pass the bill to prohibit the manufacture and sale of whiskey. We can be counted for prohibition every time.

—The beautiful springlike weather of last week, pushed forward all kinds of vegetation, but this week has checked up its advance for a spell, but we hope it will be brief.

—The general belief is that the cold snap for the past few days has killed all the peaches in this vicinity. We have talked to a few farmers who think their forward wheat is injured by the cold snap.

—Paint Lick can soon boast of a well long needed at this point. Mr. Rucker, of Silver Creek, is building a three-story steam flouring mill in the village. He has a large force of hands at work. He says he intends to use the very best of the late improved machinery, and will make a first class mill in every respect. He expects to be ready to commence grinding by the first of next July.

—A large delegation of Lancasterians, accompanied the Queen Esther Troupe on the train to Richmond, last Tuesday. We learn from Col. D. W. Tribble, who was present at the performance, says a packed audience greeted them at the Opera Hall in Richmond. The performance was a complete success in every respect, but we suppose you will receive full particulars from your Lancaster reporter, as he was present in all of his dignified bearing, as one of the troupe, and added very greatly to the interest of the performance.

—Geo. R. Hackley, a youth of 17, whose home is at this place, but has been located at Pleasant Ridge Park, Ky., since last October, doing railroad and telegraph work, has recently been given the position of Assistant Agent and Telegraph operator at Greensburg, Ky., at an increase of his former salary. He is considered a good agent, and a very rapid and correct telegraph operator. His host of friends here are very glad to hear of his promotion. He went on duty there the 11th inst. then E. H. Hobson is the agent at Greensburg.

—Miss Leticia White, of Manchester, Ky., has been visiting Mrs. Mary E. Slaughter, for several weeks. She left for her home on last Tuesday. Daniel Burdett, Miss Susie Woodard and Miss Harwood, of Hrothead, Ky., were on a visit to the family of R. H. Watson, last week.

—Miss Belle Nelkirk, of Madison county, who has been acting as governess in a family here for some weeks, left for her home last week. Quite a number of the citizens regret her departure, for she had, by her modest lady-like manners, won a host of friends.

—Two young men of the burg are now quite disconsolate. For further information ask C. M. C. and S. W. W. Rev. J. R. Peoples was in the village this week. Miss Ruth Crow is visiting relatives and friends in Boyle county. James Watkins, a black-eyed beauty of the village, has been to Lexington this week to see his Queen Esther.

WAYNE COUNTY.

Monticello.

—Captain Logan and wife, of Philskil, are visiting at Mr. Jack's hotel.

—The house occupied by Geo. W. Fleming was struck by lightning during the storm last Sunday morning. No serious damage done.

—Favorable reports continue to come from the Otter Creek Oil Wells. The yield of oil is gradually on the increase from both wells.

—A little son of Mrs. Thirsa Chaplin died of inflammation of the brain, Friday night. An infant child of Florence, Phillips, colored, died of Cerebral Affection, on same night as above.

—The ladies of the village have purchased a new carpet and given for the pulpit of the Union Church, which adds very much to the appearance of the interior, as well as the comfort of the building.

—The rise in Elk Spring Creek last week was the highest for several years; carrying away the bridge at Marshall's mill and Capt. Tuttle's foot bridge, besides several water gates that had withstood the high waters of several seasons.

—The portion of Elk Spring Valley, subject to overflow, is again inundated, and the overflow will likely do considerable damage, as it was thought the season of excessive rain was over and the low grounds had been needed to oats, and planted in corn. The pike near Steubenville was also submerged, preventing the stage making its trip to Horns, Saturday, hence we were cut off from communication with the outside world until Monday night.

The Case of Oliver.

McKENNEY, Ky., April 13, '82.

—The release of Geo. Oliver from jail on last Saturday has created among our thinking citizens no little degree of chagrin and disgust as to the law and its summary clemency in this case. We have no criticism to make, holding sacredly to the fact that all men are not born experts, lawyers nor judges. There are some features in connection with the official proceedings in the case of Oliver which deserve a more passing notice than to throw the responsibility of his release upon the so-called "legal technicalities" and the ignorance of a green and inexperienced Justice of the Peace. The facts are these: About noon last Friday, George Oliver was arrested at this place charged with receiving money under false pretense from a log and lumber dealer, Mr. J. C. Vennum. Oliver had sold to two different parties a lot of walnut logs, both of whom were here the day of his arrest, and received duplicate pay of Mr. Vennum, the second purchase. Vennum came before "Squire Daniel," and made a statement of the facts in the presence of Oliver, who did not, nor could not refuse one word of the willful, malicious fraud. For reasons of his own, "Squire Daniel" did not try the man, but upon his failure to give bond, re-warded him to jail. In filling out the mittimus, however, the "Squire" failed to make the exception that Oliver had not been tried, but as an equivalent, ordered the jailer to have him tried the next day upon the affidavit of Mr. Vennum. A message was thereupon sent to Squire Daniel from Judge Brown, ordering him to be in town Monday, to sit on the trial. He went accordingly, with the necessary witnesses, but behold, the prisoner had been released on Saturday previous, and gone his way in peace. What could have been the official quickness, and converted the Judge's legal sensibilities as to an expedient release the prisoner instead of holding him for trial as per his own arrangement in the question in doubt. The issue seems to have been between Oliver's statement before the County Attorney, and the Squire's judgment and Vennum's veracity, Oliver getting the technically, Vennum's money and an honorable discharge, and Vennum the benefit of a little experience with the officials and saw of the "grand old Commonwealth of Kentucky." Thoroughbred justice! An honest and industrious citizen ignored, and a thief protected, at least upon the contingency that he has a few remnant dollars of his victim's money. We have no desire to report Oliver's statements, but they should be worth as much in one case as another. He says it cost him twenty-five dollars to get out. How is it?

LOOK OUT, FARMERS! The Harvester War—Beginning of a Great Fight for the Farmer—Blinding with Twine.

[Chicago Tribune of March 31st, 1882.]

ST. PAUL, MINN., March 22.—The visit of Mr. William Leach, of Chicago, Ill., and Mr. C. A. Callahan, of Chicago, to this city and Minneapolis today was, it is understood, for the purpose of demonstrating the Minneapolis Harvester Works, in the name of C. H. McCormick, of Chicago, and James C. Thompson and Helen A. Graham, of Rockford, Ill., a royalty of $10 upon each twine harvester that said company has made or will make. This claim is based upon the patent which, after several years of controversy in the Federal Office, was granted to Martin L. Graham, of Rockford, and it is claimed by the parties who demand the royalty that they own and control the patent relating to the automatic binding of the bundles of grain. The Minneapolis Harvester Works, the William Leach Company of Chicago, the Chicago Reaper Company, of Springfield, Ohio; the Eastern Harvester Company, of Whitefish Bay, and all others using twine binders made under the Appleby patents are to be proceeded against by the parties controlling the Graham patent. The attorneys who have been engaged by the latter or McCormick's faction, are Geo. W. Phillips, of Philadelphia; E. A. Dickerson, of New York; H. D. Langest, of Cleveland, and Parkins & Parkins, of Cincinnati.

This looks as if the McCormick people mean business, and it will probably be well for our farmers to investigate the matter fully before buying one of the Appleby binders from any but McCormick agents, lest they may be afterwards called upon for a $10 royalty.
